Dear Sir,

Thank you for your interest in this EBI material. The staff of EBI would like you to know it is a great privilege to serve the Lord along with you. Our main desire is to honor our Lord Jesus Christ through the development of material that is sound in doctrine and of good quality. We trust that this document in digital format will help you in carrying out your ministry.

This digital document is a new design that will allow us to keep step with the present technology while fulfilling the various needs of the Hispanic ministry. We understand that time and distance often make the selection, purchase and delivery of material difficult. This document contains all the components of the printed course.

We repeat that we desire to help you in any way possible. Please don't delay in contacting us if you have questions, doubts or suggestions. May the Lord bless you as you teach this material!

Limitations of usage

This document gives the purchaser institutional rights to make unlimited copies. The term "institutional rights" means that permission is given to an individual buyer to make unlimited copies of the material for a church or academic institution in one given location. This does not give permission to share these documents with another individual, church, or institution.

Suggestions for the preparation of the materials

EBI has invested much time and effort in the development of quality products. It is our desire to produce resources that are sound in content, pleasing to the eye and made with quality materials. For this reason, we recommend the following.

1. Both the front and back covers are designed to be long-lasting and attractive; therefore, we recommend using a thicker paper of index weight or higher. The colorful, interesting design is best reproduced with a color copier.
2. We recommend using 8.5 x 11 (22 cm x 28 cm) paper since this give the inside pages the best presentation.
3. We recommend using a spiral binding.
